WHEREAS, the Parties having agreed to the following terms of confidentiality, and the Court having found that good cause exists for the issuance of an appropriately tailored confidentiality order pursuant to Rule 26(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, it is hereby ORDERED that the following restrictions and procedures shall apply to the information and documents exchanged by the parties in connection with the pre-trial phase of this action:

1. Counsel for any party may designate any document or information, in whole or in part, as confidential if counsel determines, in good faith, that such designation is necessary to protect the interests of the client in information that is proprietary, a trade secret or otherwise sensitive non-public information. Information and documents designated by a party as confidential will be stamped "CONFIDENTIAL."
2. The Confidential Information disclosed will be held and used by the person receiving such information solely for use in connection with the action.
3. In the event a party challenges another party's designation of confidentiality, counsel shall make a good faith effort to resolve the dispute, and in the absence of a resolution, the challenging party may seek resolution by the Court. Nothing in this Protective Order constitutes an admission by any party that Confidential Information disclosed in this case is relevant or admissible. Each party reserves the right to object to the use or admissibility of the Confidential Information.
4. The parties should meet and confer if any production requires a designation of

“For Attorneys’ or Experts’ Eyes Only.” All other documents designated as “CONFIDENTIAL” shall not be disclosed to any person, except:

- a. The requesting party and counsel, including in-house counsel;
 - b. Employees of such counsel assigned to and necessary to assist in the litigation;
 - c. Consultants or experts assisting in the prosecution or defense of the matter, to the extent deemed necessary by counsel;
 - d. The Court (including the mediator, or other person having access to any Confidential Information by virtue of his or her position with the Court);
 - e. Trial and deposition witnesses;
 - f. The parties’ claims administrators, reinsurers, intermediaries, accountants, auditors and retrocessionaires;
 - g. Any governmental, regulatory, or administrative agency who may seek review of Confidential Information from any party;
 - h. Any entity or person to whom any party, by law, is required to make such disclosure; and
 - i. Any other person agreed to by the parties.
5. Before disclosing or displaying the Confidential Information to any person, counsel must:
 - a. Inform the person of the confidential nature of the information or documents;
 - b. Inform the person that this Court has enjoined the use of the information or documents by him/her for any purpose other than this litigation and has enjoined the disclosure of the information or documents to any other person; and
 - c. Require each such person to sign an agreement to be bound by this Order in the form attached hereto.
6. The disclosure of a document or information without designating it as “confidential” shall not constitute a waiver of the right to designate such document or information as Confidential Information. If so designated, the document or information shall thenceforth be treated as Confidential Information subject to all the terms of this Stipulation and Order.
7. Any Personally Identifying Information (“PII”) (e.g., social security numbers, financial account numbers, passwords, and information that may be used for identity theft) exchanged in discovery shall be maintained by the receiving party in a manner that is secure and confidential.
8. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 502, inadvertent disclosure of privileged communications shall not constitute a waiver of the privilege in this matter provided the parties follow the steps set forth in Rule 502.

9. Notwithstanding the designation of information as “confidential” in discovery, there is no presumption that such information shall be filed with the Court under seal. The parties shall follow the Court’s procedures with respect to filing under seal.
10. At the conclusion of litigation, Confidential Information and any copies thereof shall be promptly (and in no event later than 30 days after entry of final judgment no longer subject to further appeal) returned to the producing party, certified as destroyed, or maintained in accordance with the parties’ document retention policies, except that the parties’ counsel shall be permitted to retain their working files (including work product, pleadings, motion papers, discovery responses, deposition transcripts and deposition and trial exhibits) on the condition that those files will remain protected.
11. All depositions, including non-party depositions, shall presumptively be treated as “confidential” subject to this Stipulation and Order for a period of 30 days after a transcript of said deposition is received by counsel for the parties, and at or before the end of the 30-day period, the deposition shall be classified appropriately.
12. A party may designate as “confidential” subject to this Stipulation and Order any document or information produced or given by a non-party to this case, or any portion thereof. Designation shall be made by notifying counsel in writing of those documents which are to be treated as “confidential” at any time up to 30 days after receipt of the documents by counsel. Prior to the expiration of the 30-day period, such documents shall be treated as “confidential.”
13. If a party is called upon to produce Confidential Information to comply with a court order, subpoena, or other direction by a court, administrative agency, or legislative body, the party from whom the Confidential Information is sought shall give written notice to counsel for the party that produced the information within 5 business days of receipt of the order, subpoena, or direction, and give the producing party 5 business days to object to the production of such Confidential Information, if it so desires. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as requiring any party to this Stipulation and Order to subject itself to any penalties for noncompliance with any court order, subpoena, or other direction by a court, administrative agency, or legislative body.

14. This Stipulation may be changed by further order of this Court, and is without prejudice to the rights of a party to move for relief from any of its provisions, or to seek or agree to different or additional protection for any particular material or information. Absent written consent of the parties, this Stipulation and Order shall continue to be binding after the conclusion of this litigation.

SO STIPULATED AND AGREED.
